NAZI TROOPS MARCH INTO BUCHAREST THURSDAY TO STOP REIGN OF TERROR

RUMANIAN PREMIER SEEKING TO PREVENT POSSIBLE ANARCHY

IRON GUARDISTS MAY CONTINUE PURGE TILL ALL POLITICAL ENEMIES DEAD

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Nov. 28.—(P)—German troops were brought into the capital today from Pitesti, 65 miles away, to help protect the city as the iron guard purge of former members of King Carol's regime continued with the assassination of former Premier Nicolai Jorga.

Dictator General Ion Antonescu also conferred with commanders of several Rumanian army corps, asking their help to restore order.

Jorga was a member of ex-King Carol's council, and had lectured in the United States. He was seized in his home and later his bullet-riddled body was found in a wood. (Thirty words censored).

A thousand iron guardists poured into Bucharest from the provinces during the day by train, truck, and automobile (250 words censored).

All public buildings were placed under guard (75 words censored). All German soldiers in or near Bucharest were ordered to stand by for immediate action (30 words censored). Late in the day the German troops from Pitesti began to come into the capital (50 words censored).

Additional Snow Was Forecast For Great Lakes Area

By The Associated Press

Light snow fell over the northeastern United States today from the Great Lakes and upper Ohio Valley eastward to the New England coast.

North Dakota and Montana had light snows, while moderate rain or snow fell over Washington, Oregon and Idaho.

Subzero cold chilled Minnesota and western Wisconsin as the temperature dropped from the Mississippi Valley State eastward to the Middle and South Atlantic coast. Bemidji, Minn., reported the coldest reading last night, 20 below zero.

A warm air center, however, was moving eastward from the Pacific coast and was expected to penetrate into the Great Lakes region tomorrow. Forecasters said the warm air, mixing with the cold, would bring more snow.

LOGAN-WALTER BILL SPONSORS IN HOUSE BLOCKED THURSDAY

UNANIMOUS CONSENT FOR AGREEMENT TO CHANGES MADE IN SENATE REFUSED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(P)—Sponsors of the Logan-Walter bill were blocked in the house today when they attempted to complete congressional action on the controversial measure but they immediately gave notice they would try again Monday.

Chairman Sumners (D-Texas) of the house judiciary committee, asked unanimous consent for his agreement to changes made in the legislation by the senate and agreement would have sent the bill to the White House where indications were that President Roosevelt might veto it.

Representative Cochran (D-Mo) objected to the unanimous consent proposal, thus spiking it.

A little later Sumners told the house his committee would call the bill again Monday and possibly force a roll call.

Cochran said he opposed the bill originally and still was against it. He described it as an anti-immigration measure.

Agriculture department officials asserted that if the bill became law administration of federal crop control programs would be made "brutal and if not impossible."

Under the various crop control laws, the department of agriculture operates programs calling for acreage reductions in such major crops as cotton, corn, wheat, tobacco, rice, potatoes, peanuts, and others. Many regulations have been issued establishing planting allotments for individual farmers and setting up soil conservation practices.

"With such a large number of independent operating units and such a wide diversity of conditions it would be necessary to hold public hearings (under the Logan-Walter bill) in every county and possibly in most communities. If the hearings are to furnish any aid at all x x x."

Antonescu issued a decree providing severe penalties for "violations of personal liberty" and "fines, sentences up to death for thefts of public funds."

Despite the decree, however, bands of guardists were reported taking the law into their own hands and driving Jews from shops and synagogues in the Rumanian town of Braile.

BRITAIN GRADUALLY COMING INTO OPEN IN ASKING FOR AID

ADMITTING VARIOUS WAYS THAT UNITED STATES ASSISTANCE NECESSARY

By C. A. FARNSWORTH

Associated Press Cable Staff

Britain is starting to let her hair down.

She at last is saying, in various ways, that while morale is high and hope of eventual victory undimmed by Nazi planes, U-boats and surface raiders, she must have help to win—help from the United States.

To date the overtures could be construed as falling within the "aid-short-of-war" category. Britain needs munitions, armaments, planes and ships and—as her newly returned ambassador, Lord Lothian, acknowledges "finances."

But she also is drawing deeply from the reservoir of her own manpower. Labor Minister Ernest Bevin has disclosed that "another enormous call-up" of British manhood will come before next June. With the call-up she probably will have drawn into the fighting services all eligible men in the United Kingdom less than 40 years old.

The Empire also is likely to be asked to furnish new troops. Since the war began the British plea to the United States has been: Send us the materials of war; we don't need your men.

Nothing that is being said now

THOUSANDS DRAFTEES WILL NOT BE CALLED UNTIL NEXT YEAR

PROSPECTIVE CITIZEN SOLDIERS WILL BE GIVEN THIS CHRISTMAS PRESENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(P)—The army is going to give a lot of prospective citizen soldiers a Christmas present today by not taking any of them away from their homes and into the service between December 15 and January 3.

The original working schedule called for some 60,000 to be summoned during this Yuletide period.

Two reasons were mainly responsible for the "Christmas present" decision, officials explained:

1.—The situation did not appear so compelling as to require induction of the active service trainees during the holidays.

2.—Many of the units to which the new men would be sent would be depleted by Christmas turn-ins, and time spent with them might be largely wasted.

THANKSGIVING WAS CELEBRATED TODAY IN SIXTEEN STATES

IN NEW ENGLAND AND OTHER SECTIONS TRADITIONAL LAST THURSDAY OBSERVED

(By The Associated Press.)

Part II of America's Thanksgiving was celebrated today in sixteen states.

In New England and in other sections from Pennsylvania to Nevada, families gathered today just as they had in the past, on the last Thursday in November.

The rest of the country observed Thanksgiving last week on the date proclaimed by President Roosevelt.

A pageant arranged at Plymouth Mass., depicted the Pilgrims' first Thanksgiving. Other features over the country included football games, some of which were played in states where Thanksgiving of families was observed last week.

The holiday was effective today in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Arkansas, Florida, North Carolina, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Kansas, Iowa, South Dakota and Nevada.

Some fifty women and children, the families of United States navy men in the Far East, celebrated the day on shipboard, en route home from Asia's danger zone.

Offices of the Federal government in Washington, and Wall Street markets were open as usual.

Hard luck beset some army draftees from Pennsylvania and Kansas. They missed turkey dinners last week on what was a workday Thursday in their home towns, and spent today in army camps in adjoining states where the holiday already was history.

REGIMENT OF DEATH THROWN IN TO STOP GREEKS FAIL TO HOLD

PICKED ITALIAN TROOPS HAD TAKEN OATH TO DIE RATHER THAN RETREAT

ATHENS, Nov. 28.—(P)—Greek reports from the front indicated tonight that the Italians were in full flight up the Albanian coast after a stubborn four-day stand in the southwestern sector by a Fascist "regiment of death."

These picked troops had taken an oath to die rather than retreat, Greek advisors said. However, they declared the Greek victory in this sector appears to have been greater than was at first believed, and now the Italians along the coast all are reported in retreat.

In general the Greek counter-invasion of Albania was reported unofficially to be progressing in all sectors.

One dispatch said "our troops have dispersed an Italian regiment of death which until yesterday presented most serious resistance. It was the choicest regiment of the Italian army...but eventually the impetus of our men prevailed."

A considerable number of prisoners was taken. Greek troops, mopping up the terrain, are pushing their positions forward. It is characteristic that reports show that our guns, which until yesterday were heard in villages along the frontier line, are no longer audible.

"From this it is inferred that our artillery has advanced deeply into Albania."

Reports from the southern sector also told of a victory by the RAE. One account said "parallel to Greek land victory, another brilliant success was scored this morning by British aviation."

"Greco-British fighters, in an air battle, shot down within half an hour seven and probably eight Italian bombers. Only one British plane was lost, but it is believed the pilot was saved."

DIES COMMITTEE HAS RELEASED RED PAPER ABOUT COMMUNISM

CHAIRMAN DIES TO MEET PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT FOR CONFERENCE FRIDAY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(P)—A bulky, documented handbook devoted exclusively to communism came from the house committee on un-American activities today as Chairman Dies (D-Tex.) sped back here for a policy conference with President Roosevelt.

Dubbed "the red paper" by the committee, the 958-page compilation of alleged communist statements, pamphlets, speeches and newspaper and pamphlet excerpts, should oppose what were termed "un-American activities" by domestic propaganda and by "hindering the execution of orders for belligerent countries."

The report, issued last night, followed the committee's last week of evidence on German activities in the United States. But the two were in sharp contrast. The German "paper" enumerated dozens of alleged propaganda and espionage efforts in the last year.

AMERICAN BUSINESS TO ENJOY ITS BIGGEST CHRISTMAS TRADE

COMMERCE DEPARTMENT SAYS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(P)—The Commerce Department predicted today the biggest Christmas stocking of holiday trade the American business has ever enjoyed.

Experts of the department have advised Secretary Jesse H. Jones it was learned that their surveys show that the physical volume of these items still were on the American market a year ago because importers had stocked up months ago to beat the onrush of battle and blockade.

Some effort was found to substitute Latin American handicraft for various European goods, but while the experiment bears official government sponsorship, it has not shown much progress, the experts said.

As for toys, the officials announced, that, contrary to popular belief, American factories largely displaced Germany and Japan in the toy market years ago.

BRITISH PICTURE TARANTO HARBOR AFTER RAID

This official picture, British sources say, shows the inner harbor at the Italian naval base at Taranto as it appeared on the follow-up reconnaissance flight after British air raid on night of Nov. 11-12. British sources say two damaged cruisers of the Trento class and one other smoking vessel surrounded by large quantities of fuel oil can be seen, together with other Italian warships.

THREE CASTAWAYS FROM MISSING YACHT REACH BROWNSVILLE

OWNER OF YACHT, HOUSTON FINANCIER, WAS STILL MISSING THURSDAY

BROWNSVILLE, Nov. 28.—(P)—Gaunt, haggard and hungry, three youthful castaways from the missing yacht, Lagheera of Houston last night stumbled into Matamoros, Mexico, across the Rio Grande, after wandering for three days on the desolate sands of the Mexican beach 135 miles south of here.

The trio, Carleton Boggess, 18, son of the missing yacht owner, Roy Boggess, Houston business man; George Erickson, 21, of Galveston and Denzil Hollis, 17, of Houston, nearly lost their lives when a skiff in which they sought to land capsized in the breakers Sunday.

The elder Boggess, who had stayed aboard the yacht with W. B. Nolan of Houston, saw the plight of the youths and came to their aid in a life raft, leaving Nolan alone on the yacht.

The four huddled together beneath the beached skiff all night after a high wind, which had driven them from the coast, snapped the anchor line and blew the yacht and Nolan to sea. Nolan the coastguard reported yesterday was taken from the yacht by a United States destroyer.

Monday morning, the hungry, thirty men who had salvaged only a box of matches, set out

HOUSTON, Nov. 28.—(P)—With the Brazos falling at Richmond and above, and the Trinity apparently leveling out after reaching a little over 27 feet at Liberty, the South Texas floods had diminished still further today.

East Columbia was getting more water. Billie Wolf, operator of a store there, reported that water was four inches deep in front of his store and the water was still rising gradually.

Truman Brown reported from that there was no threat of very high water there.

DAY SHIFT OF NAZI AIR FORCE REPORTED SCATTERED BY RAF

NIGHT ATTACKS WERE MADE ON LONDON AND SOUTH-WEST ENGLISH TOWN

LONDON, Nov. 28.—(P)—The day shift of the German air force—several formations of fighters and bombers—was reported scattered by Britain's Spitfire defenders and anti-aircraft guns today after another night of give-and-take bombardment.

Machine-gun fire was heard over southeast coastal villages, said Exchange Telegraph, a British news agency, as fighter patrols broke up the formations of daylight attackers.

The night had brought renewed bombing of London, a southwest English town which London censorship left nameless (but which informed German sources identified at the port of Plymouth).

PLYMOUTH BEARS BRUNT OF GERMAN AIR BOMBARDMENT

GERMANS CLAIM RAIL CONNECTIONS AND NAVAL WAREHOUSES DESTROYED

BERLIN, Nov. 28.—(P)—Plymouth, important southwest port and naval station of England, bore the brunt of a German air bombardment overnight, DNB, official German news agency, reported today, and daylight reconnaissance showed that its rail connection with London was broken, at least temporarily.

DNB said that reconnaissance planes, sent back by daylight because of poor visibility, hampered night observation, found that naval and other warehouses in the harbor district were destroyed and the facilities of the great western railway "extensively damaged."

More than 100 planes emptied their bomb racks on Plymouth, informed sources declared. They carried numerous incendiary bombs among their explosives.

The high command left it to others to report the Plymouth raid. Its daily communique listed

M'KENZIE BELIEVES BRITAIN'S WAR INDUSTRIES NOT DAMAGED GREAT EXTENT BY GERMAN RAIDS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press Staff Writer

Yesterday I ventured the view that England, while hard pressed, has a chance to win the war provided she has our increased aid.

Later in the day the campaign for more American assistance had a airing in the British house of commons in a debate which both exposed England's weaknesses and produced optimistic language.

In combating the debate for facts, the outstanding statement I found—and it was a most striking one—was this from Minister Without Portfolio Greenwood:

"With a close knowledge of the industrial damage we have suffered, I may unhesitatingly say that it has not eaten to any serious extent into our productive capacity."

"What we can say with certainty," he remarked at another time, "is that Britain's resources and capacity and the growing help of North America outmatch the industrial resources and capacity of the enemy."

Now this claim about British industries not having been seriously impaired comes at a moment when the wires have been humming with German reports of

VIOLENCE FLARED ANEW THURSDAY IN IRON GUARD PURGE

GERMAN TROOPS REACH CAPITAL AS IRON GUARDS POUR INTO CITY

(By The Associated Press.)

German troops marched into the capital of Rumania late today as roving iron guards bands carried out a reign of terror and violence flared anew in the "blood bath" purge of ex-King Carol's regime with the assassination of former Premier Nicolai Jorga.

Jorga, who had lectured in the United States, was seized in his home within 24 hours of the mass firing-squad execution of 64 Rumanian political leaders and his bullet-riddled body later was found in a wood.

Dictator Gen. Ion Antonescu urgently appealed to commanders of several Rumanian army corps to help restore order as the Nazi troops entered Bucharest.

A thousand green-shirted Iron Guardists poured into the capital during the day by train, truck and motorcar.

Meanwhile Athens dispatches late today said that an Italian "regiment of death," sworn to die rather than retreat, was beaten in a four-day pitched battle and that the fascist armies were in full flight up the Albanian coast along the Adriatic Sea.

The Greeks said last-minute reports showed the Greek victory in the southwest sector was greater than first believed.

Greece's counter-invasion into Albania was progressing in all sectors.

Premier Mussolini's high command claimed victory today in a new version of yesterday's naval battle in the Mediterranean, asserting that the British fleet—now the Italian—"steamed rapidly away."

This belated account contrasted with the British admiralty's description more than 12 hours earlier which said that the engagement was fought at extreme range and that the fascist fleet immediately "retired at high speed."

The Italian report said two British cruisers were "damaged for certain" in the shelling and three other British men-of-war—a battleship, an aircraft carrier and a cruiser—were hit by bombs dropped by Italian warplanes in a follow-up attack. The battle occurred south of Sardinia, the communique said.

A fire was started on the British battleship, the Fascist high command said, adding that only one Fascist ship was damaged.

"An enemy projectile hit our cruiser Flume, but failed to explode," the Italian communique said. "Our destroyer Lanciere was seriously hit and has been towed to base."

The Rome communique also reported that Italian troops of the 11th army fighting in the 32-day old war with Greece "set loose counter-attacks at various points which were crowned with success."

Again, this conflicted with the Greek description of the campaign which said Greek fighters had smashed Italian resistance on the Southern front after a battle that raged four days and nights.

A Greek government spokesman said the Greek counter-offensive into Albania had taken the initiative generally and now was driving ahead "with the same speed which disastrous destruction of British factories by Nazi bombs. It therefore is of the utmost importance that we know whether we can put full faith in Greenwood's statement.

Less than a week ago M. Thompson, chief of the London bureau of the Associated Press, returned from England, wrote this:

"It is not prophetic when the British say officially that most of the bombing has had small military significance. I have seen from week to week the actual figures and had the opportunity to visit the scenes of the bombed factories and it is remarkable how few the direct hits have been and how, in spite of them, the very factories bombed have been back in production in a matter of days and hours."

Having watched both Greenwood and Thompson in action at close range for many years, I personally do not hesitate to accept their estimates.

But how are we to reconcile such conflicting British and axis claims? I have before me a letter from a reader on that very

FEDERAL CENSUS BUREAU AGAIN DISPLAYS GOOD FORM IN GUESS AS TO NUMBER OF REGISTRANTS

By W. B. RAGSDALE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(P)—The Census Bureau, which has developed the art of guessing into a science that can do dizzy things with the figures, did it again with an estimate on the number of registrants for military service.

It boiled up a mess of statistics and brought out beforehand a guess that 16,404,000 would register for military service. Actually, the figures stand now at 16,315,676 registrants with a few cards yet to be heard from.

The difference amounted to a shade more than the old prohibition figure of half of one percent. One person of every two hundred that the bureau guessed would show up to register, failed to do so.

To get its figure, the bureau had to use a barrel full of ten year old material, making allowances for certain intangible influences that have been working up in America during that period. This was more difficult when it tried to break down the figures into a state-by-state compilation and here the margin of error narrowed or widened, according to the impact of these influences.

But the base for the guess was the 1930 census. The bureau took out of that census the number of

HENDERSON COUNTY LEVEE IMPROVEMENT BONDS REFUNDED

ATHENS, Tex., Nov. 26.—County Judge John W. Ballow and County Clerk Jack Owen have completed signing an issue of $110,000 refunding bonds in $100 denominations for the Henderson County Levee Improvement District No. 3.

The bonds were issued under a decree of the United States District Court at Tyler, March 20, 1940, in a proceeding for a composition of the outstanding indebtedness against the levee district.

The district embraces farm lands in Henderson, Navarro and Anderson Counties.

Questionnaires Are Sent to Registrars

Additional questionnaires were being checked and then submitted to the draft boards for classification as rapidly as possible.

Board One reported all of the five volunteers sent to the induction center to fill the first quota had been accepted for service.

Board Two officials said three of their five were rejected for physical disabilities after passing local preliminary examinations.

LOCATION SURVEYS ORDERED BY STATE ON HIGHWAY NO. 31

AUSTIN, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Numerous improvement orders issued today by the Texas Highway Commission included:

Navarro county: Ordered location surveys and preparations of right-of-way deeds for State 31 from Dawson to Corsicana.

At a recent meeting of the commission's court the highway commission was requested to furnish field notes and right-of-way deeds on this section so that the court could procure the right-of-way, a minimum of 120 feet, during the winter before crops were planted to save crop damage. The court has already procured the right-of-way from Dawson to the Hill-Navarro county line.

Eureka Methodist Women in Session Tuesday, Nov. 19

The Woman's Society for Christian Service met at the parsonage Tuesday, Nov. 19.

The meeting was opened with the song "Near The Cross," followed with prayer by our pastor's wife, Mrs. George Smith.

Since this was the beginning of a new conference year the newly elected officers took their places.

The secretary, Mrs. Estelle Montgomery called the roll with eleven members to answer present, and a visitor Mrs. Dorothy Rando from Ennis.

We then sang one stanza of "Wonderful Words of Life."

The secretary read the minutes of the previous meeting.

Mrs. Findley Ward brought the devotional. She used as her theme the word "kindness." It was a sermon within itself. If we would all abide by the rules she had laid down, we would have better homes to live in, and a better America.

Mrs. Smith told the ladies she was so happy to be back at Eureka for another year's work with them. She said she enjoyed every meeting of the Missionary Society during the past year, and knew she would enjoy the future meetings.

The society gave a rising vote of appreciation for Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. Dave Garrett then read an original poem honoring each member of the society.

Each lady brought her finished quilt block to the society and turned them over to the president Mrs. H. A. Gavlan, who will get them to Mrs. Capeheart.

Our Christmas tree was discussed, then the meeting was turned over to the teacher, Mrs. Dave Garrett, who taught the lesson from the second chapter of Galatians.

Meeting closed with the benediction.

The hostess, Mrs. Smith, with the assistance of two co-hostesses, Mrs. Meador and Mrs. Garrett, served delicious cake and hot chocolate.

Everybody enjoyed themselves throughout the afternoon.—Reporter.

Kerens Sorocis Club in Session On Last Wednesday

KERENS, Nov. 26.—(Spl.)—Mrs. Frank Massey was hostess to the Sorocis club for the pre-Thanksgiving meeting, entertaining at her home in East Kerens, Wednesday. Chrysanthemums, roses and potted plants were attractively used in the living room.

Mrs. Jack Anderson, president, presided at the business session, during which reports from various committees were heard and plans for Christmas were discussed.

"House Plants" was the assigned subject for the program, which was directed by Mrs. Finis McCluney.

Some of the popular house plants and the proper treatment were discussed by Mrs. Bert Inmon.

Mrs. J. C. Clayton, described window boxes and hanging baskets, also the newer types of hanging shelves and ornamental pots.

Mrs. W. L. Bain, Jr., concluded the program with a discussion of the chief difficulties in caring for house plants and how they might be avoided.

An attractive refreshment plate carrying out a patriotic motif was served to club members and guests for the afternoon, by Mrs. Hugh Logan.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR S. W. SOUTH IN RICE ON THURSDAY

Funeral services for S. W. South, aged 67 years, long-time resident of Rice, who died in Tyler Tuesday night, were held Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the Haynes Memorial Methodist church. Burial was in the Rice cemetery. The rites were conducted by Rev. W. W. Moss of Arlington and Rev. R. E. Briggs of Coolidge, both former pastors of the church. Mr. South was visiting in Tyler when stricken.

Surviving are five sons, S. B. South, Rice; E. P. South, Houston; Lynn E. South, Longview; Hugh W. South, Houston; and C. W. South, Dallas; three daughters, Mrs. Fred J. Rousseaux, Houston; Mrs. E. L. Jones, Tyler; and Mrs. Tom M. Sterling, Beaumont; two brothers, John South, Wilmer, and Jesse South, Tahoka; three sisters, Mrs. Will Gore, Littlefield; Mrs. Albert Thomas, Tahoka; and Mrs. Sam Hunt, five grandchildren and other relatives. Sutherland-McCammon Funeral Home directed the arrangements.

DRAFT

The chances of men already inducted getting holiday leave will be the same as those of enlisted men, and will depend to a considerable extent upon the distance of their camps from their homes. Local commanders will decide.

Officers estimated that inductions would reach large proportions after the new year, and rising steadily until sometime in April, average at least 35,000 a month during this period. Thereafter the pace will be somewhat slower until the summer when the 800,000-man goal for the first year of selective service is to be reached.

By December 13, when pre-holiday inductions will end, officials indicated that the number inducted throughout the nation would total 20,370.

Discussing reports that army doctors have rejected a high percentage of men certified as fit by physicians on local selective service boards, officials said that they had insufficient information thus far to have a general picture of the facts.

The army doctors X-ray all "suspect" cases, it was said, and many cases of "potential tuberculosis" probably will be discovered in this way. Belief was expressed that local board physicians would learn, from the reports of army examiners on rejected men, what was desired of them.

Col. Weller to Speak

Austin, Nov. 28.—(P)—High points of a draftee's introduction to army life will be outlined by Lieutenant Colonel Harold J. Weller in a statewide radio program (Texas state network) at 7:45 p. m. tomorrow, the adjutant general's office announced today. Colonel Weller, a member of the state selective service headquarters staff, will be interviewed and members of local draft boards were invited to hear the broadcast.

California as the bureau had figured. Arizona showed a minus sign here, too. And apparently New Mexico caught more of them than were figured in addition to having an abnormal population leap. It showed up with more men than the bureau estimated.

Oklahoma lost more than the bureau guessed. Oklahoma has 35,047 fewer than the 298,000 estimated, and Kansas 21,119 under 214,000.

Texas, in the southwest, lacked 45,412 of turning up the estimated 854,000.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take chances with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature in soothing and healing tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Eyestrain Headaches

Competent authorities claim over half of all headaches are caused by some form of eyestrain—which can be relieved by properly fitted glasses. The sensible thing to do is to have your eyes thoroughly examined at the first sign of headaches or nervousness. With our modern instruments and new tests we can find accurately the condition of your eyes. If glasses aren't needed we honestly tell you so and refer you to your family physician for medical check-up.

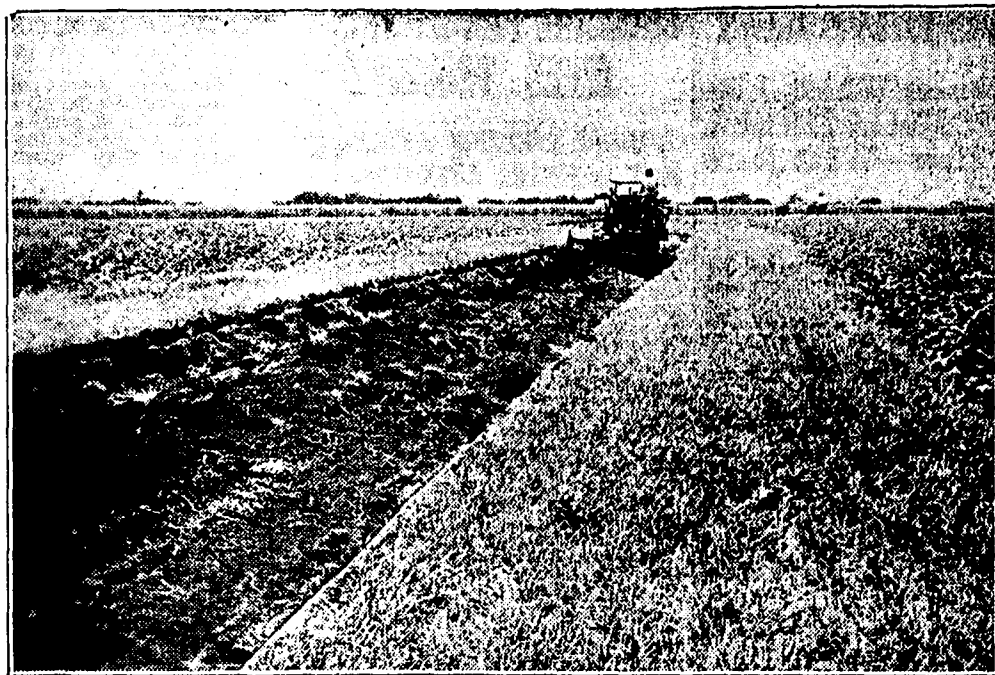

Glasses May Be Charged.

FARMERS BUILD TERRACES WHILE CROPS GROW

Making use of all available time, this Texas farmer who is establishing a complete and coordinated soil and water conservation system on his farm is busily engaged in constructing terraces on a strip cropped area from which the grain has been gathered. The strip protected the land from the erosive action of rainfall run-off during the winter and spring and the farmer is able to construct his terrace on the area without disturbing the cotton on either side. The above picture is typical of terrace construction on the W. J. McKie farm east of Corsicana.

and scattered points reaching as far as southeast Scotland. On the British side of the ledger "a heavy and successful" night bombardment of Cologne was claimed, while Le Havre and Boulogne, France, and Antwerp, Belgium, on the invasion coast of the continent, also were said to have been bombed.

As if to support Nazi daylight attacks, German long range guns rocked the Dover coast area, their fire directed by a "spotter" plane which British anti-aircraft gunners tried to strike down. Shells fell at frequent, regular intervals for more than an hour and a half and the fire was returned by British artillery.

A few of the invaders got through the British defenses to London but one was brought down by fighting planes near Croydon, on the London outskirts.

A joint communiqué of the air and home security ministries said the night's casualties in Britain were low and damage "not extensive."

Unofficially, however, 11 persons, including six children, were reported killed in a village near the southwest town attacked by the German night fliers.

Cologne Is Blasted Again By British

LONDON, Nov. 28.—(P)—British bombers delivered a heavy two-hour assault on the Rhine-land city of Cologne last night, blasting at the railway and canal on both sides of the great Rhine bridge and setting many fires with incendiary bombs, the air ministry news service reported today.

It was the second heavy attack on Cologne in as many nights. "For nearly two hours, from shortly after 10 o'clock until midnight," the ministry said, "heavy bombers concentrated on the network of railway, goods yards and railway stations on both sides of the great Hohenzollern bridge—a span carrying two double track railways and a highway."

One fire started by British raiders in the target area was "a mile long and very broad," it said.

"It is certain that our bombers must have hindered the flow on essential traffic at this vital point, though Cologne has other bridges across the Rhine," the ministry said.

"The Hohenzollern bridge and its railways are the main connections x x x and much traffic to countries which Germany has overrun must go this way."

Extensive goods yards in Germany were attacked for nearly four hours and high explosive and incendiary bombs caused "many fires and subsequent explosions," the ministry said.

One blast, the bulletin reported, lasted 30 seconds, "an exceptionally long time for an explosion."

Dover Area Bombarded.

DOVER, England, Nov. 28.—(P)—The Dover area was rocked today by the crash of exploding shells from German long range guns across the English channel.

Anti-aircraft guns opened fire on a German plane acting as a "spotter" for the German gunners.

Leg Broken When Struck By Auto

Bob Linsey, watchman for the Fortson Grocery Company suffered a broken leg about 3:30 Tuesday night when he was struck by an automobile driven by Carl Ashworth, according to a report made to city officers by Ashworth.

The injured man was taken to the P. and S. Hospital by Ashworth. According to the report, Linsey was crossing East Third Avenue as Ashworth was going west on the street, but lights of an approaching car prevented Ashworth seeing the man until too late to avoid hitting him.

Russian ambassador Ivan Malsky conferred with R. A. Butler, foreign office undersecretary, yesterday, making "a general survey of the political situation on topics of mutual interest," an authoritative source said today.

Savoy and Carlton Damaged. LONDON, Nov. 28.—(P)—Censors gave permission today to disclose that two of London's most famous hotels—the Savoy and the Carlton—were damaged in recent air raids.

Trade Pact With Spain. LISBON, Portugal, Nov. 28.—(P)—Diplomatic sources in Lisbon reported today that a new trade pact between Great Britain and Spain had been completed in Madrid negotiations.

The pact, it was said, had been agreed upon and initiated by representatives of the two governments was expected momentarily. While provisions of the treaty were not divulged, it was described as considerable broader than a previous agreement, with a clearing arrangement permitting Spain to purchase commodities in the entire "sterling" area.

The Spanish government recently voided import licenses granted under an earlier clearing arrangement, saying it would be necessary to review the entire situation.

Discuss Treatment Fascists. LONDON, Nov. 28.—(P)—The House of Commons in a secret session today heard a review of the army's organization by War Secretary Anthony Eden following a gloomy session yesterday in which Britain's war effort was sharply criticized.

Before the doors were closed the House disclosed the treatment of British fascists held in internment camps. Herbert Morrison, home secretary, announced a decision to release some lesser officials of the British Union of Fascists.

Morrison, in discussing Fascist matters, was asked the circumstances surrounding the departure of Princess Stefanie Hohenlohe-Waldenburg-Schillingfurst from this country to the United States. He explained that "this Hungarian subject left the United Kingdom in December, 1939."

"When applying for an exit permit she gave as her object a visit to relatives in the United States," Morrison said.

Laborite Member Mander retorted: "As she is a notorious member of Hitler's spy organization, why was she permitted to leave this country to do that sort of work over there?" Mander got no reply.

Two Trawlers Lost. LONDON, Nov. 28.—(P)—The loss of two British naval trawlers was a result of damage received in action with enemy aircraft, was announced today by the admiralty.

ed only bombardments of London, Avonmouth, Grimsby, Great Driffield, and a Scottish arms plant. Attacking the factory near Burntisland on the Firth of Forth, one Nazi battleplane was said to have scored two direct hits.

Night British raids on Western Germany were acknowledged by the high command, but the results were written off as damage to "a number of apartments," the death of four civilians and injury to others.

The heavy rains caused greatest damage at Helmsland, where numerous houses were destroyed and 350,000 cubic feet of earth washed away. A cemetery was flooded.

OSLO, Norway, (Via Berlin) Nov. 28.—(P)—Floods and slides in the southern part of German-occupied Norway seemed to reach an apex today as reports continued of homes washed away and communication lines cut.

around all public buildings in Bucharest and soldiers patrolled the streets.

Only prompt governments' protection saved former Premier Gheorghe Tataru and Ion Gligu and former War Minister Gen. Gheorghe Ilescu from assassination.

Antonescu himself is considering resigning if extremist guards cannot be restrained.

The whereabouts of Iuliu Maniu, famed leader of the one-time national peasant party, is not known and fears are expressed for his safety. He has had a strong bodyguard since from guard rule began after Carol's abdication in September.

Backed by Military. Antonescu's efforts to cool off the iron-cast extremists are backed by German divisions on Rumanian soil and by Rumanian garrisons, both reported ready for instant action.

A terse government communiqué acknowledged the purge by bullets yesterday in Jilava prison and said the government "disapproved."

The iron guard, in power since it overthrew the regime of King Carol II and chased him from the country, admittedly was settling its chief political score—avenging the death of its founder, Corneliu Zelea Codreanu.

Plans to place the bodies of Codreanu and his thirteen staff lieutenants from Jilava for services in the Orthodox Cathedral in Bucharest Sunday and burial in the National Heroes Cemetery were announced by Green House officials, who previously had named the last week of November a period of "mourning and revenge."

The green shirt executioners, it was said, themselves announced to police that they had carried out the Jilava purge, but none was held, even for questioning.

MRS. JOHN L. DUNN, RESIDENT OF ENNIS, BURIED THERE TODAY

Funeral services for Mrs. John L. Dunn, aged 75 years, who died Tuesday at her home in Ennis, were held Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock from the Holy Redeemer church with burial in St. Joseph's cemetery in Ennis. Rev. John McCarthy of Ennis conducted the rites.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. C. C. Patton, Ennis, and Mrs. M. Houston, Houston; a son, John L. Dunn, Tulsa, Okla.; four brothers, J. D. Mitchell, Corsicana; Leo Mitchell and Louis Mitchell, both of El Paso; and Frank Mitchell, Alma; two sisters, Mrs. Eddie Harrison, Alma, and Sister Pauline, Little Rock, Ark.; four granddaughters and other relatives. Corley Funeral Home directed the arrangements.

CALLS FOR AID

has changed that plea, except to emphasize it with the virtual assurance that the British will lose the war unless she gets help.

Quantity Not Specified. For public consumption, British officials do not specify the quantity of the help she must have—nor precisely the categories. But a general way of expressing it would be to say that Britain cannot continue as an industrial-commercial entity. She has been or will be so weakened by the Nazi counter-blockade and bombardment that she must have constant transfusions.

Britain's hope of victory lies in integrating her own diminishing industrial and commercial lifeblood with that of her mainstays, the United States and Canada, in a sort of "alliance with relationship."

Minister without portfolio Arthur Greenwood dwelt on that theme in the House of Commons yesterday when he spoke of North America as "a second arsenal."

Co operative disposition of the United States fleet to free British naval units from certain world areas which the British merely are guarding now would add even further stress to the "short-of-war" policy.

Many persons professed to see in the destroyers-for-bases trade agreement a new non-belligerent "alliance with relationship." The British proposal to make up her shipping losses primarily through construction in United States shipyards is a case along the same line.

British Not Unanimous. The British are not unanimous in this feeling of dependence on American supplies. Leslie Hore-Belisha, former war secretary, is one of those who believe that Britain should not rely too strongly on the United States and Canada. He favors a strong offensive war right now against Italy as the Achilles heel of the totalitarian lineup.

The British feel that they have licked the fear of their enemy—if not their enemy himself.

Milo M. Thompson, chief of the London bureau of the Associated Press, who flew to the United States as a fellow passenger of Lord Lothian, says there is no question of British morale.

The people, at least, Thompson reports, are confident that they have won the battle for survival in having undergone the German bombings thus far.

"They seem to have lost any fear whatsoever of bombing or invasion," he says.

But the morale of the people and actual capacity of their industry and commerce for war of the sort needed to outmatch Hitler are two different things.

Britain probably never will win by fighting a defensive war. That was the strategy of the Maginot line, the basis of the utter reliance on the power of blockade. Britain, somewhere, somehow, must seize the initiative if she is to win.

And so, in the hope of insuring that aid, Britain now has started letting her hair down.

said to have been removed from the grave before Codreanu's body could be removed, then the bodies of the slain political prisoners were dumped in and the slab replaced.

CASTAWAYS

To find help. The elder Bogges went southward and the youths scoured the area in which they landed on the sparsely settled Mexican coast.

Followed Elder Man. Hours later, when Bogges failed to return, the youths followed his footprints in the sand toward the mouth of the Rio Soto La Marina.

Miles down the coast, the youths said they lost Bogges' trail and they wearily retraced their steps to the skiff, where they scrawled a note on the side of the craft for Bogges if he managed to get back with help.

Erickson, who had only one shoe, said the trio started walking northward across the sands and around inlets.

A cold norther sprang up. The three shivered in scant clothing and walked faster to keep warm. They stopped once and huddled around a driftwood fire.

"We were getting hungrier and thirstier all the time," Erickson said. "It began getting cloudy and we hoped it would rain, so we could open our mouths and get some water."

"The fisherman understood and pulled the youth into a boat. The fishermen picked up the other two youths and took them to a fishing camp, where they were fed."

Tuesday the fishermen took the youths to Eighth Pass, about 120 miles below Brownsville. There B. G. Eubank, Brownsville fisherman, took them in tow and headed back toward the States, arriving at Matamoros last night with the bedraggled trio.

Refreshed after a night's sleep, the boys today worried about the plight of the elder Bogges, still apparently lost.

BROWNVILLE, Nov. 28.—(P)—Three castaways from the missing yacht Baghera of Houston, arrived here today after wandering for three days on the desolate Mexican sand beach south of here.

The trio, George Erickson, 21, of Galveston; Carleton Bogges, 18, and Donald Hollis, 17, both of Houston, were suffering from exposure.

A fourth man, Ray Bogges, Houston financier and owner of the yacht, was still missing.

The castaways said the yacht, cruising in the Gulf of Mexico, was buffeted by strong winds and driven 135 miles down the Mexican coast.

The three said they started to land Sunday in a small boat to get their bearings.

The boat capsized coming through the breakers.

Hollis was almost drowned. Erickson dragged him to safety. On the beach the men underwent hardships before locating a Mexican fishing camp 35 miles upland.

No word of the missing yacht had been received here today. The party had gone to the southern waters for a month's cruise and fishing trip.

Carleton Bogges, son of the yacht owner, said they planned to put in at Tampico, Mexico, and then return across the gulf.

Coast guardmen reported yesterday W. B. Nolan, another Houstonian, had been picked up by United States destroyer on a drifting yacht in the gulf.

Houston friends of Bogges sent airplanes today cruising along the lower coast in an effort to find a trace of the missing yacht or the sportsman.

while the Russian document was based largely on doctrinaire statements which the committee attributed to communist leaders over the last two decades.

Both "red" and "white" papers, as well as other operations of the committee, probably will be discussed thoroughly tomorrow.

Robert E. Stripling, committee clerk, and Rep. Voorhis (D-Calif.), a committee member, said they attached relatively little importance to the "red paper" since it was intended as a compilation of exhibits intended to trace the history of the communist party in the United States and its relationship to Moscow.

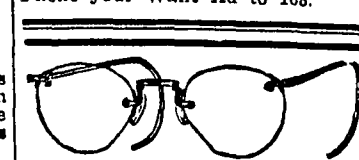

The committee, reproducing a pamphlet, "what is communism?"

quoted Earl Browder, party general secretary, as having said in 1936 that capitalism could be ended only by "organized actions of the working class" working with other sections of the population. "The revolution does not simply happen; it must be made," the quotations read. "This does not imply that the communist party 'makes' the revolution. The socialist revolution is carried out by the great masses of toilers."

RESURRECTION

It is only a few weeks since Prime Minister Churchill prophesied that the ghosts of the democracies killed by the dictators would yet come trooping from their graves to join England in her fight for European freedom.

It has been the high privilege of Greece, which first gave democracy to the world, to start this glorious resurrection. Greece was not one of the slaughtered democracies, but was next in line for that fate. Her courageous fight against Fascist slavery has been as brave and brilliant as anything in the history of the Greek race. And perhaps it came just at the crucial moment, to turn back the tide that threatened to engulf all Europe and Asia.

For the present, at least, the invaders of Greece have been beaten back, their armies destroyed and the aggressor shaken and weakened. On top of this Axis disaster came the great British naval victory over the Italian fleet, making the Mediterranean safe again for democracy and freeing British warships for Atlantic use.

Immediately the ferment of freedom works faster. The Albanians are emerging from their slavery to help the Greeks. The fallen democracies on the western fringe of Europe take hope. French colonies refuse to submit. Turkey stiffens her independent spirit and Russia hesitates. Churchill may have been a good prophet.

ANTARCTIC SCRAMBLE.

The Chilean Ministry of Foreign Affairs announces the country's interest in any future development of the natural resources of the Antarctic region and makes official claim to certain territory.

"Scientific investigations have established the existence in the Antarctic of enormous quantities of coal which, although of poor grade, constitutes the greatest reserve in the world," he says. "It is not unlikely that petroleum will be found there."

This is evidence that not even the present European and Asiatic wars and the threat of their spreading to other continents have quieted the rising excitement over territorial claims in South Polar area. Early in 1939 Norway, Germany, Argentina, Great Britain and the United States were all staking out claims there. Norway proposed a congress on Polar matters. The United States insisted that claims of sovereignty would be valid only if there were supported by occupation. Commander Byrd's third expedition was a result of that.

The interested countries could work themselves into a distressing rivalry and disastrous competition on this line. It seems a short-sighted and dangerous thing to start. Here, if ever, is an opportunity to work out a plan of co-operative development of untapped resources for the benefit of all. It is a chance to take care of the needs of "have-not" nations without injuring the "haves." But such a plan ought to be started soon before claims become too rigid and rivalry too warm.

It certainly looks now as if the Axis needs some more axle grease.

It's worth having an election, just for the quietness that comes afterward.

JUST FOLKS

(Copyright, 1937, Edgar A. Guest)

BORN SPENDERS.

I can preach on saving money till I'm out of voice and words. But I might as well say "stop it" to those early-twitching birds; Tell the doves to quit their cooing or the sparrows not to flit.

Or the wild geese high above me to delay their southern flight. As to say to wife and daughter, "this is final, understand! You must give up spending money till I've got my debts in hand!"

I might as well tell horses not to nibble on my trees. Or a squirrel to quit scratching when his coat is thick with fleas. Or a cat to stop her yowling late. At night when she is out As to counsel saving money when the women are at home For the mother and the daughter, sure as fate, will shortly spy Some most attractive garment which they simply have to buy.

SKUNK, FRIEND OF TREES

The skunk, a greatly maligned animal, is a hero to those who know him best. Such admirers include the New York State Conservation Department, which has a fine tree nursery at Saratoga. In fact, it is the largest forest tree production plant in the world.

Things were going nicely with the several million seedlings and transplanted young trees at Saratoga until grub worms became too numerous and began to devour tree shoots and kill a great many trees.

There are scientific ways of combating such pests, but they are not adequate against a large-scale invasion. Nature, unhampered, takes care of these things better. At least, that is what the forestry people discovered when a skunk came to live among them.

There are few delicacies a skunk likes better than grub worms. This particular skunk got busy at once. First thing he knew, the grateful human folks there had fixed up for him the finest living quarters any skunk ever had. He is happy and good-natured because he can have his fill of grub worms. The seedlings seem in a fair way to be saved. The moral, no doubt, is that credit should be given where it is due.

THE NEXT SIX MONTHS

"The thing is what we do with the next six months," says Joseph P. Kennedy, ambassador to Britain, in an interview in the Boston Globe. "It would be fatal to let it go by without making the most of every working day for defense. We're not doing the maximum now. We've got to. We've got to realize it. We've got to educate America to the need of defense. Fast, too."

Mr. Kennedy doubtless knows what he is talking about. He has seen what is happening to Britain from unpreparedness, and what might happen to us might be almost as bad, if Britain went under and we were not ready to defend ourselves.

A vast preparedness program is under way, but as Mr. Kennedy and various other observers say, it isn't going fast enough. There has to be harder toil and more speed and more teamwork. We have to provide the "toil and sweat" that Winston Churchill promised the British people, in order to escape the rest of that formula, which was "blood and tears."

And it should be obvious that we can't do this tremendous job of preparation on a seven-hour day or a 40-hour week, in factory or mine or front office or anywhere else.

It should be no less obvious that we can't do it, either, if we're going to keep on squabbling about politics. What this country needs supremely is teamwork.

Maybe that Nazi campaign in the Balkans has been shaken by more than an earthquake.

PARACHUTISTS!PRESENT PROBLEMS Faced BY WORLD BE SOLVED BY CHURCH

Asserting that the church is the only key to the solving of present world problems, Dr. Frank C. Brown, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Dallas, and Dr. Thomas W. Currie, President of Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary, joined in urging the pastors, elders, deacons, and laymen of the Presbyterian churches of this district Tuesday night at the First Church of Corsicana to make a concerted effort throughout the next year to convert those people who are outside of church obedience to the teachings of Christ.

The occasion of the addresses was the annual Presbyterian district evangelistic conference for the churches of Mart, Marlin, Fairfield, Streetman, Mexia, Eureka, Steward's Mill, and Corsicana. A nation-wide evangelistic movement has been launched by the Presbyterian Churches in an effort to reveal to the people of the United States the real need for a strong church in America. Elders, deacons, auxiliary officers, Sunday school workers and young people officers of the Presbyterian Church have been enlisted in this movement with duties to secure the largest possible attendance from their respective communities during the coming year. Committees have been established in every Presbytery in the nation to aid in the movement.

Hall Opened Conference. Rev. W. R. Hall, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Corsicana, opened the conference with a brief address on the purposes of the meeting. He introduced Rev. O. C. Acery, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Cameron, conference chairman, who presided over the session.

Kerens and Corsicana People Were Guests Of Dallas Relative

KERENS, Nov. 26.—(Special).—Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Carroll and son, Homer, Jr., of Kerens, and Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Loggins of Corsicana were luncheon and spent the day guests of their niece, Miss Kathleen Bullock of Dallas, on Thanksgiving Day. They had also the pleasure of a visit with their nephew, Kenneth Bullock, who was the guest of his sister, for the last time before joining his men for a year of military training at Brownwood.

Miss Dorothy Love Receives Gold Star In Room Decoration

HELTON, Nov. 27.—(Spl.).—Miss Dorothy Love, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Love, 1606 Ficklin avenue, Corsicana, was one of the Mary Hardin-Baylor College students who received a gold star for one of the most attractively and originally decorated residence hall rooms. The awards were made for rooms showing the most ingenuity in decoration and best expression of individual personality, regardless of how little or how much was spent in decorating. The program of room decorations is a part of the personality development program at the college.

Blooming Grove Man On Way to Get Wings

BLOOMING GROVE, Nov. 27.—(Spl.).—J. R. Griffin, Jr., came by home to spend the week end holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Griffin. He is being transferred from Hemet, Calif., to the Gulf Coast Air Corps Training Center, Randolph Field. He has just completed the primary training course as a flying cadet at Hemet, Calif., and is being sent to Randolph Field for more intense study and training.

Kerens Junior Music Club Met Wednesday

KERENS, Nov. 26.—(Spl.).—At the initial meeting of the Kerens Junior Music Club, held on Wednesday at the home of Marilyn Coates, Marianne Carpenter was co-hostess. Several new members were welcomed into the club at this time by the president, Jean Everheart. Mrs. Wade Price, sponsor from the senior club, was leader of the interesting program and discussed ancient history.

Mrs. C. W. White, senior sponsor, discussed the private life of Bach, after which Mrs. Price gave a piano selection of his composition. Battling Handel and his victories was charmingly told by Jean Everheart.

During the social hour ice cream and cake were served. Mary Jane Daniel was club guest.

Emhouse Future Farmers Get New Unit For Heating

EMHOUSE, Nov. 27.—(Spl.).—The agricultural students of Emhouse High school are very proud of the recent installation of a new heating system in the vocational agriculture class room. The new heating unit was installed following a fire hazard a few days ago due to a defect in a stove which caused considerable damage to the classroom. During the summer considerable improvements were made on the vocational agriculture building. The FFA boys and their instructor are very grateful to those who aided in securing the added comfort they now enjoy in classroom work.

Calvin Rich, president of the chapter, recently returned from the National FFA convention at Kansas City where he represented the Emhouse chapter. Following his return he talked to the V. A. classes, giving a very interesting description of the national convention. The chapter raised funds for the trip by sponsoring a boxing program of local talent. Quentin S. Matthews, teacher of vocational agriculture, announces that a meeting of farmers will be held at Emhouse High school Tuesday night, Dec. 3, to discuss the marketing quota for 1941.

Dallas Guests in Kerens Home. KERENS, Nov. 27.—(Spl.).—Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Seale had as their week end guests, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hooten and Willie Frith of Dallas.

COTTON FARMERS BETTER PREPARED TO PROTECT SELVES

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 27.—(Special).—Cotton farmers of the United States are better prepared through the marketing quota provisions of the AAA farm program to protect themselves from effects of the European war today than they were during the World War. Through the adjustment provisions of the program and through marketing quotas, farmers have the means of keeping supplies of cotton in line with demand—something they did not have in 1914. D. L. Cochran, state AAA committee man and Lamar County farmer, declared.

"As a result of being unable to work co-operatively in adjusting production, farmers learned during the last war what happened when cotton was thrown on an over-supplied market," the committee man said. "In 1914-15 the war weakened demand for a large American crop and caused the price to drop from about 12 cents to 6-12 cents."

In contrast to that situation, since the European war broke out in 1939, the farm price of cotton, supported by government loans, has increased slightly despite the two-year supply now on hand, he pointed out.

Cotton marketing quotas and acreage allotments are the farmer's tools for adjusting the supply of cotton to be placed on the market," Cochran continued. "During the World War the laws of economics were against the cotton farmer. But now farmers can, through the AAA program, do their own adjusting and place on the market that amount of cotton which can be sold at a reasonable price."

Facing Serious Situation. With exports of cotton reduced as a result of the present war and other factors, farmers are facing a serious situation. Despite the expected increase in domestic consumption, estimated to be from 8,000,000 to 8,500,000 bales this season, less than one-half of the 25,000,000-bale world supply of American cotton will be used this year, the committee man said. World consumption of American cotton since 1932 has been equal to or well above production in every year except 1937. That year when there was no adjustment program in effect a bumper crop of 19,000,000 bales was produced. This large crop brought the surplus back to the 1933 levels, nullifying the work of four years of cotton supply adjustment. The 1937 crop has been responsible for the excessive supplies since that time.

Texas farmers will vote, along with the other cotton farmers of the nation, on December 7 to decide whether they want marketing quotas to be in effect on the 1941 crop. A favorable vote of two-thirds is necessary before quotas will be operative.

MONTHLY MEETING OF NAVARRO COUNTY TEACHERS WAS HELD

The regular monthly meeting of the Navarro County Teachers Association was held Tuesday night at the I. O. O. F. Home with an attendance of about 100. An excellent program was presented under the direction of the music teachers of the Home, Misses Ruth Isbell and Mary Leone Hogue.

Reports from the State Teachers Association meeting held in Fort Worth last week were given by members who attended.

Creeks in Navarro County Are Receding

Creeks in Navarro county reported receding slowly Wednesday but much of the lowlands were still covered. Trinity River continued to rise and the crest is not anticipated for a day or two. Travel was difficult on most of the unimproved roads in the county with a majority of them badly cut up by traffic and ruts filled with water stalled numerous cars.

Flood conditions in South Texas and damaged tracks made it necessary for passenger trains on the Burlington-Rock Island to detour over the Southern Pacific lines between Corsicana and Houston. Repairs were being made to damaged sections of major highways as rapidly as possible.

"Build-Up" Important Protector of Women

A weak, undernourished condition often enables functional dysmenorrhea to get a foothold; thus leads to much of woman's suffering from headaches, nervousness, and other periodic discomfort.

CARDUI's principal help for such distress comes from the way it usually stimulates appetite; increases flow of gastric juice; thus aids digestion; helps build energy, strength, physical resistance to periodic pain for many.

Another way, many women find help for periodic distress: Take CARDUI a few days before and during "the time." Women have used CARDUI for more than 50 years!

PERSONNEL OF GUARD UNITS GET PHYSICAL EXAMINATIONS TODAY

EXACT DATE OF DEPARTURE FOR BROWNWOOD YET UN-KNOWN TO OFFICERS

Physical examination of the enlisted men and non-commissioned officers of Headquarters Battery and Battery D, 132nd Field Artillery, Texas National Guard, was in progress Tuesday, the second day since mobilization of the Corsicana units. The examinations were conducted by Capt. G. H. Landers, Texas National Guard, and First Lieut. James R. Geter, Ennis, 11th Medical Detachment. Battery D men were started through the examinations conducted at the YMCA Tuesday morning and after that unit was completed, Headquarters personnel was handled.

Commanding officers of the units will go to Dallas Friday for their examinations incident to their induction into the federal service while the remaining officers go to Dallas Thursday.

Gets Promotion
First Lieut. Ernest L. Kirkland Tuesday was the first local officer to receive his official recognition of promotion to a first lieutenant from the U. S. last summer.

Approximately 40 per cent of the personnel is staying in the armory at night. Curfew is 10:30 P. M.

Local officers had not received any information as to the time the units may be sent to Camp Bowie, Brownwood, Texas, and no news has been received locally as to the reported likelihood of a further stay in armories due to weather conditions at Brownwood that has delayed final completion of accommodations for the 13th Division, of which Navarro county units are a part.

The following rosters of the local units were issued Tuesday:

Yule Seals on Mansion Mail

If you receive a letter from the governor's mansion between now and Christmas it will likely carry a Christmas seal which helps finance the nationwide battle against tuberculosis. Here is Texas' first lady, Mrs. W. Lee O'Daniel, and Molly O'Daniel already using the colorful Christmas seal on early mail. Millions of seals will go on mail from American homes and business offices from the White House in Washington to the humblest cottage as America takes part in the 34th annual seal sale beginning Nov. 25. The picture was taken in the drawing room of the mansion.

FORMER RESIDENT CORSICANA DIED IN HOUSTON WEDNESDAY

Mrs. M. M. Callicut of Houston died at Houston Wednesday afternoon. Funeral services are expected to be held in Corsicana Friday or Saturday. Arrangements are being delayed pending the arrival of her only son, Major Madison Callicut of the U. S. Army in Panama who is scheduled to arrive in Houston by plane late Thursday afternoon.

FLOODS

Crops, livestock, communications lines, and homes were struck down in a five day period of chill temperatures and rain which first spread a cap of ice over the Panhandle, then sent flood waters raging in East and South Texas.

Only on the lower reaches of the Brazos, Trinity, and Colorado rivers, and in some spots on the upper Sabine, was there immediate danger of additional damage from high waters as a second day of favorable weather dawned.

Many roads South and East Texas remained closed, but highway department officials reported motorists in other sections of the state would experience no difficulty in travel.

Dozens of emergency crews from throughout the Southwest rushed repair of light and power and telephone lines at Amarillo, where line men were working to clear up the mess.

Eight hundred Western Union poles were down, including 2,000 broken cross arms and 100,000 wire breaks.

Counting Damage Of Texas Floods

HOUSTON, Nov. 28.—(U.S.)—The South Texas flood situation today had eased to a matter of counting damage, with no new serious threats to any area, but thousands of acres of lowlands, particularly on the Brazos and Colorado rivers, still lay under muddy water.

A new rise on the Brazos was reported bearing down toward Hempstead, the overflow from the Little River, and the lower Brazos expects this water by the end of the week.

The Trinity river at Liberty was practically stationary at noon today.

W. P. Pond of West Columbia made a survey of the Brazos from his town down to Brazoria, and reported the water rising over the entire section.

Six or seven families had been taken from low-lying regions in the East Columbia section.

Major figures on losses from widely scattered sources bolstered early predictions that loss of livestock would be heavy.

It was estimated that 2500 individuals in eight to ten counties affected by the high flood waters were still away from their homes, either still unable to get back because of high water or not allowed to return because of the possibility that another heavy rain would bring the waters up again.

The estimate was made by John C. Wilson, St. Louis, director of relief operations for the Red Cross.

He said the Red Cross would keep the five disaster workers brought here for the flood until all waters had receded and everyone taken care of.

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 28.—(U.S.)—Telegraphic releases for $24,650 for emergency flood patients in five East Texas counties were issued from state WPA offices here today, according to R. W. Colglazier, Jr., state director of operations.

The funds, which will supply work for 500 men, will be used in Montgomery, Washington, Colorado, Waller and Anderson counties. Also included will be repair work to the sewer system at Brenham, where the system had been damaged by high water.

Jack Griffin was admitted to the P. and S. Hospital Thursday for medical treatment.

subject. He cites as an example a recent occasion when the British Royal Air Force asserted that it had damaged Berlin railway stations. The Nazis promptly escorted foreign newspapermen to view the stations and the press report was that no signs of damage were seen.

"This, mind you," says my indignant correspondent, "on the very day that the RAF claims to have blown those stations all to hell."

Such contradictions are confusing not only for him but for professional observers as well.

The cold fact is that frequently it's impossible for an airman who is bombing from a great height or for his observer to tell accurately what damage has been done.

That might easily account for the episode of the Berlin stations. It might by the same token explain mistakes in German claims of damage done in England.

Broadly speaking there is little evidence to show that categorical statements in official communiques aren't intended to tell the truth. The same may be said of official pronouncements by ministers.

When all's said and done, our main reliance must be placed on the grand army of American newspapermen and women abroad. They are trying their best to give us a correct picture, and personally I think they are doing a swell job.

GREECE

The Italian high command, which has acknowledged some reverses in the Greek campaign, declared today that troops of the 11th army had successfully counter-attacked.

On sections, the Greek dispatches reported: "As a result of yesterday's success our troops have succeeded in compelling the enemy to a general quick withdrawal after fighting four days and nights without rest, sometimes launching stormy attacks at bayonet point, sometimes maneuvering through high mountains and encircling the enemy detachments and sometimes launching surprise night attacks."

Central—Four hundred Italians captured in one village by 13 Greek soldiers after the Greek line had carried beyond the place.

In darkness the Greek detachment surrounded a house where many of the Italians were barricaded with machine-guns. The Greek leader fired through a window and killed an Italian Second Lieutenant. "This was the beginning," said the dispatch, "of the other Italians surrendering."

Northern—"Our troops continued to advance and occupy important enemy positions. Strong resistance was met in fierce resistance, but before the dash of Greek troops they dispersed in all directions."

As is usually the case, they abandoned large quantities of war materials. More prisoners were taken and their statements disclosed the magnitude of the Italian disaster x x x.

At any moment the final clash between our advancing forces and the retreating enemy will take place. The Italians x x x are seriously threatened with being cut off from their bases."

To Requisition Shipping. LONDON, Nov. 28.—(U.S.)—The Greek government has authorized the Greek shipping commission in London to requisition all Greek shipping outside the eastern Mediterranean, the British ministry of shipping announced today.

City Schools Be Dismissed Early For Football Tilt

Corsicana public schools will be dismissed Friday afternoon at 2:40 o'clock so that the students desiring to attend the Mildred-Haley District 51-B championship football game at Tiger Field, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock can do so. This announcement was made at noon Thursday by W. H. Norwood, superintendent of the city schools.

Kallio suffered a heart attack August 20 and since then Premier Risto Rytel has been acting president.

(In September the German official news agency, DNB, published an erroneous report that Kallio had died. The report was quickly denied in Helsinki, where his condition was reported improving.)

Japan May Plan Action. TOKYO, Nov. 28.—(U.S.)—Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka "probably will make strong written representations" to the Netherlands minister in Tokyo on the basis of official reports that "have confirmed a series of anti-Japanese incidents" in the Dutch East Indies, a foreign office spokesman said today.

Observers noted the possibility that the outbreak of official and press indignation might be the forerunner of new and stronger Japanese demands for economic concessions in the Dutch Islands.

Russia Supports Bulgaria. SOFIA, Bulgaria, Nov. 28.—(U.S.)—A high Soviet official has assured Bulgaria that "Russia has always supported and continues to support Bulgaria," government sources reported today.

Informed quarters said the statement confirmed Russia's reported opposition to immediate adherence by Bulgaria to the Berlin-Rome-Tokyo alliance.

British Convoys Goit to Turkey. LONDON, Nov. 28.—(U.S.)—The British navy declared today that the British were sending convoys to Turkey to prepare that country for developments in Italy's war with Greece.

The editor, authoritative Virginia Gaydon, said in explanation of the naval battle south of Sardinia that strong forces of British warships were escorting convoys in the Mediterranean toward Egypt, Greece, and Turkey, which the London government wants to equip owing to developments of Greek events.

Treaty to Be Signed. SHANGHAI, Nov. 28.—(U.S.)—Informed sources said today a treaty would be signed at Nanking on Saturday between Japan and the Japanese-sponsored government of Wang Ching Wei pledging to Tokyo virtually complete and permanent control of China's military and economic affairs.

The terms of the pact, these sources said, are expected to be totally unacceptable to Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek. They predicted that he would ignore a "last exhortation" sent him from Nanking in an open telegram in which Wang urged him to announce an armistice and join him in peaceful cooperation with Japan.

has marked the attack of recent days.

In the aerial siege of England, the Germans reported that more than 100 Nazi raiders pounded the southwest port of Plymouth, dropping 110 tons of bombs, and also attacked London again to set a new aerial record.

The British said between 150 and 200 German planes raided "a southwest town"—evidently Plymouth—from dusk until 2:30 a. m., scattering incendiary bombs and high explosives which left "barely any scars" according to the official account. Unofficial reports told of 14 deaths in the Plymouth area.

RAF warplanes carried out a "heavy and successful" attack on Cologne, in the German Rhineland, the British said, and renewed forays against the Nazi invasion.

A government communique admitted the shootings in Jilava prison and expressed the disapproval of both Antonescu and Vice Premier Hora Stanculescu.

ITALY GLADIATORS TO OPPOSE MILDRED EAGLES HERE FRIDAY

WINNER WILL SUCCEED KER-ENS BOBCATS AS PREMIER
B COMBINATION

Two undefeated and untied football aggregations will clash on Tiger Field Friday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock for the District 21-B championship.

This tilt will find the Italy Gladiators of Ellis County, winners of the A division title, and the Mildred Eagles, champions of the B division, opposing for the pennant now held by the Kerens Bobcats and the right to represent this section in the district.

Italy has won nine straight tilts, scoring 319 points to none for the opposition. Mildred has won eight straight this season and copped the two final engagements of 1939 to make their wins ten in a row. While the opposition has scored on the Eagles on several occasions, their record is impressive. Despite the fact that neutral critics will likely select Italy as the favorite due to the decisive victories turned in by the Ellis Countians, the Mildred team and supporters are not worried about the approaching game and plan to shatter the unscored and undefeated record of the A representatives.

Doug Cook, a former Trinity University player, is the coach of the Gladiators. A. C. Sebastian, North Texas Teacher product, is the mentor of the Eagles. Italy finished ahead of Bloomington, Kerens, Hubbard and Dawson. Mildred finished in the lead over Milford, Frost and Trinidad.

Officials Selected.
Officials for the championship struggle will be Shick, Trinity, referee; Tynes, Centenary, umpire, and Bradley, East Texas Teachers, headlinesman.

No injuries have been reported from either camp. Weather conditions of the past several days handicapped the scheduled hard training but this fact may make the performers snappier and faster than had they trained each afternoon.

L. R. Nolen of Trinidad is district chairman. Probable starting lineups have not been announced by the rival coaches.

Find Good Shape.
The selection of Tiger Field was made at a recent meeting of school authorities of the two interested towns. The field should be in the best of condition for this engagement, as a fine turf if found and it has not been cut up or trampled by practicing athletes since the recent rainy season.

This will probably be the last football game played in Corsicana this season. Those attending can be assured of a couple of tough teams scrapping for the championship.

Tickets went on sale here Wednesday afternoon for this tilt.

Baby Weighing One Pound Being Kept Alive in Bellvue

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—(AP)—A baby girl weighing only 16 1/2 ounces was being kept alive today on an eighth of an ounce of milk and three drops of whiskey fed to her every three hours.

The baby, four months premature, was in an incubator at Bellvue Hospital. She was born yesterday to Mrs. Charlotte Ninger, wife of a printer.

If the baby lives, she will be the smallest ever to have survived at the hospital.

PANAMANIAN CALLS FOR HELP AND LATER
CANCELS THAT CALL

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The Panamanian government proceeded on its way early today calling off rescue ships which had been steaming toward her.

The freighter earlier had reported she was listing at 16 degrees, her engine room flooded and would have to abandon ship if the list increased.

Two hours later she radioed "everything under control" and "assistance not needed."

The Panamanian, owned by the General Atlantic Company, a firm founded by European refugees, has been regarded as a "hoodoo ship" ever since twelve men were killed at her launching thirty-six years ago.

As the army transport Mongolia, she fired the first American shot in the World War, a blast that sank a German U-boat on April 19, 1917.

Later, she was named the President Fillmore and served as a passenger ship in the old dollar line.

Brought of retirement last March, she was converted into a freight vessel. A series of mishaps followed.

Water flooded her holds and engine room at Baltimore March 21 as she was preparing to sail for Liverpool with a heavy cargo.

She was pumped out, but after sailing a fire broke out. After completing her European voyage she went to Galveston, where again her engine room was flooded.

Strikes and minor explosions aboard preceded her sailing from Galveston Nov. 8 with 52,000 drums of gasoline for Japan.

Shipping circles here said the company planned to sell her to Japan when she arrived there.

Student and adult tickets were sent to Corsicana Senior High School, while the reduced duets are available at the P. and S. Pharmacy and Noble's Drug Store.

The tickets will be on sale until Friday at noon. Coach Sebastian of Mildred stated, at 25 cents for students and 35 cents for adults. Price at the gate will be 35 and 50 cents.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Singleton at the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic Tuesday night.

LABOR FEDERATION CONVENTION DRAWS TOWARD ITS CLOSE

PEACE PLANS WITH CIO AP-
ARENTLY CAREFULLY
STOWED IN MOTH BALLS

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor, with plans for peace with the CIO apparently carefully stowed among the moth balls, today began to put up the shutters on its 60th Annual Convention.

The chattering delegates, whom nothing would keep in session after sundown except tardiness in closing out routine business, turned to minor committee reports and the re-election of President William Green and other officers.

As a parting shot for those coming within the sphere of its complaints, the convention saved for almost the last moment a blazing barrage of accusations against the anti-trust division of the department of justice.

The AFL accused the anti-trust division headed by Attorney General Thurmond Arnold with "unwarranted and destructive activities against organized labor."

"We must demand," the AFL declared, "from those occupying higher positions that the person in charge of the anti-trust division who they curb these x x x activities."

"We question the motives of the anti-trust division in starting criminal prosecutions and we can see no other reason for the prosecution of these x x x malice toward our AFL affiliates."

"In the past two years more prosecutions have been brought against organized labor for alleged violations of the anti-trust laws than had been brought in the preceding 50 years. Thus x x x labor x x x is confronted with the most vicious attack ever made upon it."

Not to Be Influenced.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Taking note of charges set out in a resolution adopted by the American Federation of Labor, assistant Attorney General Thurmond Arnold asserted today that the justice department's anti-trust division would not "be influenced by resolutions of any private group demanding special exemptions."

"The anti-trust division," he said in a statement, "will continue to prosecute impartially those who violate the Sherman Act, whether they belong to business, agricultural, professional or labor organizations."

Has Been Completed

Officers and men in Corsicana's two federalized national guard units were settled into their training routines Thursday as most of the preliminary details of their induction were completed.

Medical corps representatives completed their examinations of the men during the morning and were preparing their reports during the afternoon but the number to be disqualified was still undetermined. The vacancies will not be filled at present officers reported.

Unexplained Blast Wrecks Warehouse, Number Trapped

YAKIMA, Wash., Nov. 28.—(AP)—An unexplained explosion today wrecked the Richey Gilbert warehouse at Toppenish, and trapped an undetermined number of persons in the basement. Workers attempting to rescue them reported they could be heard talking.

Forces of the explosion, thought by rescuers due to escaping gas or dynamite, was so great it blew out all windows in buildings in a radius of over a block from the concrete structure.

FEDERAL OIL BILL EXPECTED BE PUSHED IN NEXT CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Renewed and increased administrative pressure for passage by the next congress of oil production regulatory laws was foreseen today in remarks of Secretary Ickes.

Answering questions at his press conference as to whether the interior department would resume its support of the principles embodied in the Cole bill to grant partial federal control of petroleum production, Ickes replied:

"More strongly than ever."

He added that the legislation was needed more than ever because of war demands on world oil supplies. He declared that domestic reserves would be "affected sooner or later," despite the present "temporary" accumulation of stocks through a falling off of exports.

Commenting on current legislation to give the government title to submerged coastal lands bearing large oil deposits, Ickes said he personally supported such a measure but did not know now whether it would appear before a congressional committee next session in its behalf. Replying to a question whether the government might go to court in an effort to obtain control of oil reserves off the California coast, Ickes said he "couldn't say now what policy" would be followed.

"Both the navy and interior departments believe that oil belongs to the government or ought to," he concluded.

State officials of California, Texas and Louisiana, where the principal submerged petroleum reserves are located, have opposed the legislation.

JUST WHERE YOUR CHRISTMAS SEALS DOLLAR IS SPENT

AUSTIN, Nov. 28.—(Sp.)—Every dollar from the Sale of Christmas Seals goes a long way both in purchasing power and in bringing health in the fight these seals make against tuberculosis.

Seal sale headquarters here reported. Here is the breakdown of the Texas Christmas Seal Sale dollar as itemized by Pansy Nichols, executive secretary of the Texas Tuberculosis association:

"Twenty-eight cents devoted to diagnosis and treatment; operation of tuberculosis clinics, and financing tuberculin tests, x-ray and other diagnostic procedure, explained Miss Nichols.

"Twenty-two cents of every dollar is devoted to promotion of child health. This includes visiting nurse service, work in children's clinics, health teaching in schools, and tuberculin tests and x-ray of school children.

"An important part of this fight against tuberculosis," she pointed out, "is health education. Thirty-five cents of the Christmas Seal dollar is expended in health education. This service includes distribution of literature and posters, health exhibits, talks and lectures, cost of the Christmas Seal campaign, and radio transmissions and motion pictures which teach the prevention and control of tuberculosis.

"The remaining fifteen cents is used for administrative costs, including rent, lights, postage, clerical work and salaries."

GERMANS DECLARED REPULSED ON RAID IN WEST INDIES

STRICT CENSORSHIP KEPT
SUMMER CURACAO STORY
SECRET UNTIL NOW

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The New York World-Telegram says a German landing party from a raider operating in the Caribbean was repulsed by British forces at Curacao, Dutch West Indies, when the Nazis attempted to destroy valuable oil refineries there.

The paper, quoting an unidentified eyewitness, says the Germans invaded Curacao last night of July 28 and that British land forces and shots from two armed tankers in the harbor killed or wounded 35 Germans.

This informant says strict censorship kept the invasion a secret.

The paper says the invaders were supposed to have come from the German raider which sank the British ship HMS King John and Davian last July 30 about 240 miles northeast of the Virgin Islands.

Survivors of the British ships have said the raider was disguised as a Swedish ship with the name "Narvik" painted on her sides.

The informant said he learned of the attack when he drove a member of one of the tankers to a pier. The World-Telegram quotes him as follows:

"Just after dark, x x x one of the gun crew (from a tanker) came to my quarters and told me that the raider was back to his ship. I offered to drive him down. We were about a half-mile from the dock when a Dutch officer, with a revolver strapped on his hip, stopped us, flashed a light in our faces and said he wanted to use my car."

"I looked at the revolver and told him I'd be glad to help him out. He wanted to move his family into the car. I knew that the Nazi landing party already was near that way for an attack on the refinery."

"x x x As the tanker was moving around so it could train its guns on the shore, the shooting started. There was murder going on—machine guns and hand grenades. Then the tankers began firing into the mine. I knew that it must be really serious when the tankers were firing for every time they shot they were running the chance of blowing themselves to pieces by igniting a gas pocket that might have formed while they were taking on gasoline."

"The fighting stopped almost as suddenly as it started."

"The next day officials seemed to agree that 35 Germans had been killed or wounded."

INVITATION DEBATE
BE STAGED SATURDAY
LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL

The Corsicana high school debating department under the direction of R. A. Armistead will conduct a public invitation debate tournament at the high school all-day Saturday. Approximately thirty teams are expected to participate. Questions endorsed by the state and national debate leagues will be argued.

Schools to take part in addition to Corsicana include Denison, Sunset of Dallas, Adamson of Dallas, North Dallas, and Gaston High of Jolietville.

The state question deals with whether the state should increase taxes on natural resources, and the national question involves whether additional powers should be granted the federal government.

Cadet Pilot And Private Killed

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 28.—(AP)—A cadet pilot who had completed his advanced training course and a Kelly Field private were killed in the crash of a training plane near Medina Lake, 30 miles northwest of here, yesterday.

They were Flying Cadet H. E. Coleman, 21, of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Pvt. James J. Enloe, 20, of Temple, Texas, a member of the 64th School Squadron.

Two sent out 4 blanks Thursday making a total of 450 for this organization.

AGED SOURDOUGH IS BELIEVED ENTOMBED HIS BODY IN ICE

INDICATIONS POINT TO DY-ING MAN'S EFFORT SAVE
BODY FROM WOLVES

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Out of the frozen Yukon today came the uncanny story of an aged Alaskan sourdough who, dying in the wilderness, was believed to have deliberately entombed his body in ice to save it from the ice.

Encased in solid ice, the body of 84-year-old Edwin A. Robertson was found by a searching party in a glacial stream where a little trickle of water still flowed over the ice.

His rifle, the tracks of wolves and a tiny heap of sticks with which he had tried vainly to build a fire were found beside the stream.

Robertson, a Maine man who had spent most of his life in the wilds of Interior Alaska, lived in a lonely cabin on Seventy-Mile River. On Nov. 14, he set out for Eagle, near the Alaska-Yukon territory border and less than 100 miles below the Arctic Circle.

The weather was bitterly cold, the route untraveled and without shelter and the country infested with packs of wolves.

As United States Commissioner R. E. Steel reconstructed Robertson's end, darkness overtook the old timer on the trail and he tried to camp for the night beside the stream. But when he was unable to light a fire, death from freezing swiftly approached.

The commissioner believes the howling wolves and the certainty of death then impelled the Alaskan pioneer to take the step which cheated the wolves.

From the position in which the body was found yesterday with Parika pulled over his head and his arms folded, Steel was convinced that Robertson had purposely lain in the stream, with the freezing water trickling over him, to make sure the wolves would not get his body.

Settlement Strike
At Aluminum Plant Believed Be Near

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., Nov. 28.—(AP)—E. C. McDonald, federal labor conciliator, said today there were "possibilities" of settling soon the seven-day-old strike which halted work on defense materials at the local plant of the Aluminum Company of America.

His statement coincided with an announcement by union spokesmen that a mass meeting of the Aluminum Workers will be held tonight "in connection with the dispute."

The union called the strike, involving 7,500 employees, when the company refused to discharge a mill worker accused by the union of threatening a union representative in a dispute over dues.

Co-Operation Promised.
Complete co-operation of all club activities was pledged by the members of the YMCA Friendship club in a business meeting of the association Wednesday night. Recreation and hobby interests were also discussed.

The business meeting was followed with a recreational period in the gymnasium.

Ray Pritchard was dismissed from the P. and S. Hospital Thursday morning.

NAVARRO COUNTY COTTON GROWERS VOTE ON QUOTAS

WILL DETERMINE IN REFER-ENDUM WHETHER MARKET-

Navarro County cotton producers will vote on a referendum Saturday, Dec. 7, to determine if cotton marketing quotas will be in effect in 1941. Roy R. Keeling, chairman of the Navarro County AAA committee, announced this week.

"The question to be decided Dec. 7 is whether marketing quotas as will be used in connection with the 1941 cotton crop," Keeling stated. "If two-thirds of the voting farmers approve, quotas will be in effect and will apply to all states, counties and communities where cotton is produced," the committee chairman related.

Chairman Keeling urged Navarro County farmers to consider the quota provisions and the present cotton situation closely and then vote their own convictions. He emphasized that, regardless of how they vote, all eligible growers should cast their ballots to make the vote as representative as possible.

Under the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, marketing quotas are applicable to all cotton except that with a staple length of 1 1/2 inches or more. Each 1940 cotton producer, whether owner, tenant or sharecropper, will be entitled to one vote.

The county AAA committee will be in charge of all arrangements for the referendum in the county. The committees will select three local farmers to serve as the referendum committee in each community.

A voting place will be designated and a secret ballot provided, it was stated. The voting will begin at 8:30 a. m. and will be completed at 7 p. m. on election day.

SENATE COMMITTEE ON BANKING PROBE BRITISH FINANCES

SEEKING TO ESTABLISH EX-TENT OF BRITAIN'S FINAN-CIAL RESERVES IN U. S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The senate banking committee, it was learned today, is seeking to establish the exact extent of Britain's remaining financial reserves in the United States—data considered essential to any congressional discussion of loans or credits to the empire.

Chairman Wagner (D-NY) disclosed that this was one of the major questions which the committee hopes to answer by a broad monetary and fiscal investigation authorized by the senate more than a year ago.

Senator Wagner said he expected to open public hearings on this shortly after the next session of congress meets in January.

Treasury Secretary Morgenthau suggested today the United States should "look at some of the cash assets" of the British before considering the purchase of any of Britain's West Indian islands in order to facilitate her buying of war supplies.

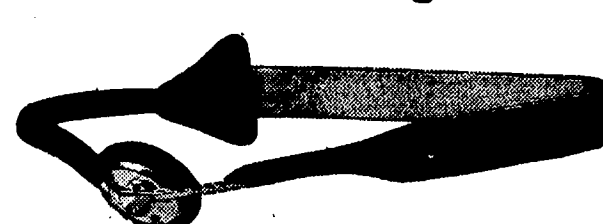

Morgenthau on his vacation flew over the site leased in Jamaica and reported he found a "wonderful anchorage large enough to take our whole fleet."

The senate foreign relations committee yesterday delayed action upon British aid requests until January and Chairman George (D-Ga) said that an evaluation of British resources and purchases was pertinent to any future congressional action.

Several high administration officials have estimated that Britain's remaining financial reserves were equal to at least another year of heavy war supply purchases.
